“ Apparently I had met Mr Dan back in 2013 when we were singing at a karaoke event at your daughter's house a few months ago it was Pam and Carl's anniversary and you had Wheeled Carl in, in his wheelchair I push the chair aside and I said please sit next to me as I had went through some stuff myself. We chatted the whole evening and it was wonderful talking to him. We talked about having dinner possibly in the next few weeks but then time went on as it always does and things slip away. I literally cried when he left that night leaving boxcar just knowing that he's been going through a whole lot as I have been to and he was so super sweet about everything and I promised to him that I would contact him but then again Time slips away. I just want to let y'all know that he was truly a wonderful man and I'm sure you know that and I thank him for just that time a few hours just talking to him what made an impact on my life. Sending my love & hugs ,Good vibes and just knowing that he loved everybody truly.. God bless Tammy

“ While I never got to meet you in person, Dan. Holly obviously loved you unconditionally. I've known Holly since high school. She was always Bright, Cheery and Beautiful. It makes my heart feel good knowing she found someone to love the way she did you. You were a very lucky man to be so blessed.

“ Dan was an inspiration to his friends and family. So many times life would give Dan a basket of rotten lemons, and so many times I watched this man make the best lemonade he knew how. In the end, Dan's thoughts and monumental efforts were to care for those around him. I know of no better example of a hard life lived well.

We miss you, Dan.
