McDowell family funeral home not only took care of my families funeral needs, but they also provided a platform that was based on care, honesty, transparency and extreme professionalism.

I've personally known the principal director for McDowell family funeral home for over a decade now - and I've also referred many grieving families to McDowell family funeral home for general funeral services, cremations, in house and grave site services.

Respectfully, after the services are complete and after the grieving families have retired their black suits, I always follow up with the families to ensure everything went well. Every family I have referred has always been pleased with the friendly, caring, economical and professional approach that the staff provided for their beloved family member!

If more funeral homes took the same approach as the principal owner and staff at McDowell Family Funeral Home, the grieving process, the economic strain and the overall pain the comes with losing a loved one would be easier to bear.

Thank God for the staff at McDowell Family Funeral Home.

*Sincerely
J. Weldon Shavers*
